2. TROUBLE SOUNDS

On paper, list out the words that are you're finding really difficult and spend some extra reviewing them. You should take your time and speak each word slowly. Feel every part.

Complex words can be split up into smaller parts that are easier to say out loud, then put it all together when the sounds start to become more natural for you.

Aim to master 4-5 words from your list every day.

3. VOWEL SOUNDS

4. INTERNATIONAL PHONETIC ALPHABET (IPA)

5. IMITATE

6. WHOLE SENTENCES

You should write, prepare and learn the words that you're going to say, so that you can just focus on your delivery. Try to feel the emotions of what's being said. Practise whole lines of dialogue.
